ORGANISATIONAL SKILLS

Organisational skills

I gained, through professional experiences, excellent abilities to organize the work, defining priorities and taking responsibility for the work done, respecting deadlines and the objectives set and required.

I gained practicality, through professional and university experiences, in organizing the work of one or more projects using the methodologies and heuristics provided by the Software Engineering (such as the SCRUM and AGILE methods), managing stress in an optimal manner decisive and conclusive phases of the projects themselves.

COMMUNICATION AND INTERPERSONAL SKILLS

Communication and interpersonal skills

I am able to relate with people of different nationalities and cultures and to adapt easily to a work team, in order to complete a given task, thanks to the experience gained abroad and professional experiences with people residing in other countries.

JOB-RELATED SKILLS

Job-related skills

I have the ability to produce code as modular as possible and to organize it into different features in order to improve the resolution of bugs, the production of the code itself and the communication with the team, making use of structural patterns (MVC, SINGLETON, ...) and a vast tool chain of support (composed mainly by: GIT-based versioning systems with development flow GIT FLOW, CSS preprocessors as SASS, local development environments managed with DOCKER, code formatters like PHP-FMT and PRETTIER, etc).

I am able to install and maintain LAMP stack architectures, either directly on Windows / Linux environments or using Plesk, CPanel and VestaCP control panels.

I have an excellent knowledge of the Internet, computer networks and structured cabling and I am able to install and manage small and medium-sized local networks thanks to the acquired certifications (CCNA Discovery) and the professional experiences carried out.
